1 A SHORT SUBJECTIVE RETROSPECTIVE

Dylan turns fifty and now has thirty years behind him as a recording artist. He accepts the Lifetime Achievement Award at the Grammy Awards Ceremony in February. There is no new record this year, but in March the first three volumes of The Bootleg Series are released. The fourth year of the Never-Ending tour consists of often chaotic concerts with an almost new band in US, Europe and South America.

2 THE YEAR AT A GLANCE

3 CALENDAR

- Early January* Dylan records This Old Man at his home studio for yet another benefit album: For Our Children. Hope for children with AIDS.
- Early January* Rehearsals with a new band starts in Montana Studios, New York City. The two remaining members are Tony Garnier on bass and César Diaz on guitar. Ian Wallace has replaced Chris Parker on drums. Ian played 115 shows with Dylan during the 1978 World Tour. On guitar we also have one John Jackson who had been playing with Jo-El Sonnier earlier.
- January 19* The promotional Wilbury Twist video is filmed at a mansion in Los Angeles.
- January* The original track of Series of Dreams is overdubbed at the Messina Sound Studios in New York. Dylan also provides new vocals for the second and 4th bridge.
- January 28* Dylan kicks off the first tour of the new year with a most unusual version of Most Likely You Go Your Way. Every line is sung at double speed and the rest of the time he plays harmonica. Must have been a real shock for the new and still under rehearsed band. The show features two "new" songs, Bob Dylan's Dream, not performed live since 1963 and, for the first time, God Knows from Under The Red Sky.
- February 8-17* The European part of the second Fastbreak Tour ends with an eighth show residency at the Hammersmith Odeon in London. The shows are generally much less varied than a year ago and the performances not nearly as inspired. The shows are heavily criticized by fans and in the press.
- February 20* Bob Dylan is given the Lifetime Achievement Award at the Grammy Awards Ceremony at Radio City Music Hall in New York. Jack Nicholson presents the award. After a short introductory speech by Nicholson a film of video clips is shown, featuring an unseen sequence from Eat The Document (Ballad Of A Thin Man) and a few sequences from the promotional video of the forthcoming single Series Of Dreams, an Oh Mercy outtake. Dylan and the band then enter the stage and perform a really rough version of Masters Of Wars sung with closed eyes in his most toneless voice. After this performance Dylan is given the award and delivers this short acceptance speech:
- Thank You ... well ... alright ... yeah, well, my daddy he didn't leave me too much ... you know he was a very simple man and he didn't leave me a lot but what he told me was this ... what he did say was ... son ... he said uh (long pause) ... he said so many things ya know he said you know it's possible to become so defiled in this world that your own mother and father will abandon you, and if that happen God will always believe in your own ability to mend your ways. Thank you.*

After which Dylan leaves the stage to a standing ovation. At Sony's after-the-show party Dylan turned up with his date for the evening: his mother!

- Late February* Bob Dylan is interviewed about The Bootleg Series in Los Angeles by his publisher Elliot Mintz. The interview is included in the syndicated Westwood One radio show, broadcast in the US during May.
- Feb 25 27* The first of the 1991 tours ends with four shows in Mexico, two in Guadalajara and two in Mexico City. These are Dylan's first concerts in Mexico. At the concerts in Mexico City he played to a one-third full Sports palace, but outside 30,000 people gathered and listened to the concerts through special speakers located outside the hall. In a telephone interview in the Guadalajara Reporter, No 8, 1991 (Feb 23-Mar 1) Dylan gets the question "What's the band you're touring with like?" and answers Real good, real simple. Tony (Garnier from Asleep At The Wheel) plays stand-up bass. We may use John Staheley (Robert Palmer band) on guitar. Was Staheley to replace John Jackson or César Diaz?
- March 1, 2*
- March 16* On St Patrick's Day BBC broadcasts the Van Morrison program One Irish Rover in which the Dylan-Morrison duets from Athens in June 1989 are included.
- March 26* Release of single Series Of Dreams/Seven Curses
Release of the 3CD (in Europe also 5LP) set The Bootleg Series.
- March 28* Joe Queenan interviews Dylan. The interview is originally intended as a birthday article in New York Times. The interview apparently did not go well and in the end New York Times rejected it and it turned up in the August issue of SPY magazine titled "The Free-fallin' Bob Dylan. Exclusive polysyllabic Dylan interview". Dylan does not reveal anything and the frustrated interviewer starts the article with the following insult: "Forever young? Sorry, no. Bob Dylan - suddenly 50 years old - has declined into a loopy, very occasionally inspired parody of his once-great self".
- April 14* Paul Zollo interviews Dylan in a Beverly Hills Hotel for SongTalk magazine (published by the National Academy of Songwriters, which Dylan joined a year earlier). The interview is one of the best from recent years and is later published in the Winter 1991 issue.
- April 19* This year's second tour starts in New Orleans. César Diaz has now left the band. The first show starts with a live premiere, New Morning. This is to be the opening song for almost all shows during the spring and summer tours.
- Early May* The planned nine show tour of South America is cancelled when the local promoters fail to come up with the required advances on time. The following shows were scheduled:
- May 22-25 Buenos Aires, Argentina
May 27 Montevideo, Uruguay

- May 30, June 1 Sao Paolo, Brazil
- June 2 Rio de Janeiro, Brazil
- May 12* The spring tour ends after 15 shows in Amherst, Mass. This is the first time in Amherst since he played The Cage on 26 April 1964.
- May 14-15* Two shows at Port Chester are cancelled.
- May 24* Dylan turns 50.
- May 28* Release of For Our Children charity album.
- June 6* For the third summer in a row Dylan tours Europe. The first show in Rome opens appropriately with When I Paint My Masterpiece, the first rendition of this song during the Never-Ending tour. The show also features two never before played covers, an acoustic version of Paul Simon's Homeward Bound and John Prine's People Putting People Down.
- June 8* In Italy Van Morrison shares the bill with Dylan and in Milan Dylan makes a guest appearance at Van's opening concert, playing harmonica in Whenever God Shines His Light and Enlightenment.
- June 28, 29* The European summer tour ends with two rock festival shows, in Norway and Denmark. Then back to the States for the
- July 4 - 27* US Summer tour which starts in Tanglewood, Lenox, Massachusetts and ends in Corfu, New York. One more East Coast tour.
- Early August* Dylan attends a Les Paul concert at Fat Tuesday's in New York. Les Paul is celebrating his 76th birthday.
- August 8 - 21* At last, South America! Dylan has wanted to tour this part of the world since 1984 at least. 9 shows in Argentina, Uruguay and Brazil. Audiences vary from 30,000 to 1,500! Some unusual songs are played like Ring Them Bells and It's Too Late (She's Gone).
- Early September* Dylan and the band are rehearsing in Los Angeles. There are lots of rumors of the band breaking up, Ian Wallace leaving the band, talks of Dylan again touring with The Band. In the end the band stays the same. Dylan tries again to book Beacon Theatre in New York in October but he is too late.
- September 15* Once again Dylan appears at the Chabad Telethon. He speaks to the audience, asking people to contribute and then thanks the present rabbis. Later he and Kinky Friedman perform Sold American, Kinky singing and playing acoustic guitar and Dylan playing electric guitar.
- October 17* Dylan attends the Guitar Greats Festival (Legends de la Guitars) in Seville, Spain. This is a five-night extravaganza with each night devoted to a certain decade and having a musical director. The performances are organized in a relay fashion. Dylan performs his first song with Jack Bruce and his band, then three acoustic songs with Richard Thompson on guitar, and then introduces Keith Richards and they play Shake Rattle & Roll together. The musical director this night is Phil Manzanera. There are at least one hour from each night broadcast on TV and radio in various countries all over Europe.

October 24

Last tour this year starts with four shows in Texas and ends in late November in Charlottesville, Virginia.

6 THE BOOTLEG SERIES

First it was to be a 10 CD-set, one disc released each month in 1991 starting in March. Then it became a 4CD box. Finally Sony decided to trim it down to a 3CD box. Still, this is one of the more stunning retrospective releases that has ever hit the market:

58 songs total, NONE released before!
 23 songs new to collectors! (marked + or * below)
 8 songs never before heard with Dylan! (marked * below).

The box comes with an excellent booklet with stunning photos and great liner notes written by John Bauldie.

One might say that this release marks the recognition of the importance and resources of the widespread Dylan "fan community". Not only the name of the set, but also the facts that several well known collectors were consulted during the preparations and that the editor of The Telegraph, and chairman of the Bob Dylan Information Office, Wanted Man was commissioned to write the booklet's liner notes. Without the collectors, performances like Hard Times In New York Town and No More Auction Block might be very well lost long ago

A short summary of the tracks:

1989/1991:

Series Of Dreams * Oh Mercy outtake

One remarkable thing is that there is not one single song that was unknown before the release of the box. Of the songs never before heard

- House Carpenter is mentioned by Shelton in his book No Direction Home,
- Farewell Angelina is probably the biggest surprise of all, even though Stephen Pickering has claimed to possess this outtake, it is of course well-known through Joan Baez,
- Santa Fé, Call Letter Blues, Ye Shall Be Changed and You Changed My Life have all been known to exist and copyrighted lyrics have been in circulation,
- Golden Loom and Catfish have been recorded by other artists and the lyrics are included in Lyrics 1962-1985 and
- Series Of Dreams is mentioned as one of six Oh Mercy outtakes by Daniel Lanois in an interview in The Telegraph.

Songs that were considered but never made it:

Ain't Gonna Go To Hell For Anybody	live - early 80
John Brown	live 1988
Don't Ever Take Yourself Away	1982 outtake

Since the full name of the box is "the bootleg series volumes 1-3 [rare & unreleased] 1961-1991" one may assume that more volumes are to follow. As a matter of fact this is mentioned in the liner notes, indicating that future volumes will feature unreleased live performances such as Royal Albert Hall 1966. To meet this end material was compiled and put to Dylan for release at the end of 1991, but sadly and for unknown reasons, it wasn't approved.

7 THE NEVER-ENDING TOUR CONTINUES

7.1 Introduction

The never-ending tour continued 1991 with no less than SIX new legs:

1. The Second Fastbreak Tour during January, February and March
2. Spring Tour during May and June
3. Summer Tour in Europe during June
4. Summer Tour in the US during July
5. Tour of South America during August
6. Fall Tour during October and November.

It seems that the Never-Ending Tour gets more fragmented each year, during 1988 there was essentially just one long tour. In 1989 we got three tours or "legs", in 1990 five and this year six.

John Jackson (guitar)

César Diaz (guitar) - first tour only

Tony Garnier (bass)

Ian Wallace (drums).

The shows were structured in the same way as in 1988-1990:

The Second Fastbreak Tour featured shows in Europe, US and Mexico. Dylan came to Europe with a new lead guitarist and a new drummer. This band sounded extremely under rehearsed in the beginning and the new members had real problems filling the places of G.E. Smith and Chris Parker. César Diaz did an important job in the background. Without him this first tour would have been absolutely horrid.

Recommended shows

Zürich 31 January, Dublin 5 February.

Songs

God Knows and Bob Dylan's Dream made their first live appearances. The setlist remained very much the same throughout the tour with the notable exception of the second concert Glasgow which featured nine one offs!

¹ a show is unique if no other show has the same songs in the same order

² a show is different from another show if the set of songs are different, regardless of order

³ electric and acoustic versions are counted as different songs

⁴ a song is counted as unique regardless of how it is performed

⁵ variation is computed as the quote between number of different songs and mean number of performed songs

Guests

Van Morrison joined Bob in Dublin and they sang Van's song Tupelo Honey together.

In London Ron Wood guested on February 16 playing guitar on Everything Is Broken, Man In The Long Black Coat and Like A Rolling Stone.

Selected BobTalk

Thank you! I hope you're all saying that to everybody. You just GOT to say to each other: "You Gotta Serve Somebody!!" (Zurich 28 January)

Somebody said that's about a restaurant. Anyone works in a restaurant? If you never worked in a restaurant you should try and do that! ... This is my song about real people. (after Gotta Serve Somebody in Utrecht 31 January).

All right, this one of my lesser known songs, but it's still one of my favourites so ... (before In The Garden in Glasgow 2 February).

That's my Bruce Springsteen ending. Thanks Bruce! (after Gotta Serve Somebody in Dublin 5 February).

César Diaz has now left the band, which is consequently sounding thinner and rougher than ever. Add to this Dylan's listless and toneless singing mumbled and garbled lyrics and it adds up to one of the worst tours ever in his career. Chaotic!

Recommended shows

NONE!!

Songs

The real surprise this time is around is that New Morning, never before played live, now becomes the regular opener. The rendition has however little to do with the original song and lots of people don't even recognize it.

Guests

⁶ a show is unique if no other show has the same songs in the same order

⁷ a show is different from another show if the set of songs are different, regardless of order

⁸ electric and acoustic versions are counted as different songs

⁹ a song is counted as unique regardless of how it is performed

Jo-El Sonnier plays accordion on Maggie's Farm at the opening show in New Orleans.

Selected BobTalk

Thank you everybody!! That was my response to a song by Arlo Guthrie called "Alice's Restaurant"! This is from my latest record, all about fishing, called Wiggle Wiggle Wiggle. This is my ecology song. (after Gotta Serve Somebody in Stony Brook 7 May).

A lot of people came down on me for writing this next song, but the truth just had to come out. And it came out this way! (before Man In The Long Black Coat in Stony Brook 7 May).

Back in Europe after just three weeks break, things are getting slightly better. The band is starting to sound a little tighter and once again the setlists get a little more varied with an occasional cover and some unusual songs. Dylan continues to play the electric piano now and then, but in Stuttgart something happens. After a completely horrid New Morning with random piano attacks, totally unconnected with the song being played, Dylan abolishes the piano for the rest of 1991. Then, in the same show, he changes the show format somewhat. There are two extra songs in the first electric set, only four in the second. I Shall Be Released & Like A Rolling Stone are dropped from the set from now on (with a few exceptions in South America). This is the first show since Cuyahoga Falls June 21, 1988 without Like A Rolling Stone. From now on Ballad Of A Thin Man becomes the standard last encore.

Recommended shows

Rome 6 June, Ljubljana 10 June, Stockholm 26 June.

Songs

When I Paint My Masterpiece opens the first show in Rome. First time Copenhagen Sept 21, 1987 w/ Petty & The Heartbreakers.

Homeward Bound, the Paul Simon song, is the second surprise in Rome. This is the first version ever. It is done acoustic here, but Bob also tries it during the second electric set in Innsbruck.

People Putting People Down is the third surprise in Rome. This is a song by John Prine.

I Want You is the final Rome surprise. It is done acoustic as the only encore for the evening!

Man Of Peace gets a rare airing in Bologna. It's the only 1991 appearance. This evening we also get Under The Red Sky, the last 1991 appearance.

Selected BobTalk

Thank you! It was one of my songs about somebody everybody knows so well, but so little about! (after Man Of Peace in Bologna).

Thank you everybody! Well, English is my only language. Sometimes not even that. (after All Along The Watchtower in Ljubljana).

Someone told me Madonna was here tonight ... on vacation. Anyway, Madonna, this one's for you! (before Shelter From The Storm in Linz).

This is off my last record. It sold a lot and it's gonna sell a lot more. (before Wiggle Wiggle in Stuttgart).

Anybody here heard about Heaven? Anybody know where that is? Here's a song about Heaven. It's near Chicago! (before Knockin' On Heaven's Door in Stuttgart).

What good am I? What good are YOU? This is a song that means a lot to a lot of people out there. (before Ballad Of A Thin Man in Stuttgart).

This is my ecology song. You know we got to work together to save the planet! (before Wiggle Wiggle in Essen).

Thank you everybody! This song is off my new latest smash record!! It's up to about 10 million now. It's gonna sell a whole lot more before it's through. Well, it would be nice if it did anyway. (before Wiggle Wiggle in Offenbach).

This is my ecology song for the night off of my last record. (plays Wiggle Wiggle). Thanks for making that record such a big hit!! Now I've done my duty! (In Munich).

Here's a song about ... Sometimes, like just today, somebody was coming to my hotel and stopped me on the street and he grabbed me around the shoulders and said "Mr. Zimmerman!" (pronounced with thick German accent!) These kind of things kind of shake a person up sometimes. And long ago somebody did the same thing. He didn't know me and he got run over by a street-car, in the middle of the street. It was a sad thing, but there wasn't anything for me to do but go back and write this song. And after it was written, that's when it was sung! (before Don't Think Twice in Munich).

Thanks everybody! It's really a great pleasure to play here. One of my favorite groups of all times is ABBA. ABBA!! (after Man In The Long Black Coat in Stockholm June 25).

Someone asked me last night about Jimi Hendrix. Yes, it is true, he DID record this song! Way back when ... (before All Along The Watchtower in Stockholm June 26).

Some people think that's a Whitney Houston song but it's one of MINE!! (after I'll Be Your Baby Tonight in Stockholm June 26).

Back in the States the Never-Ending tour continues with yet another 15 gigs structured as the late European shows. Dylan's singing gets worse during the summer and many shows are lacklustre to say the least.

Alright, thank you. You gotta serve somebody ... ever heard about Alice's restaurant? You got to go there, you got to serve somebody! Nobody gets ... This is my hit song. It is a great hit in New York City! (plays Wiggle Wiggle). That of course was my ecology song. (in Wantagh)

You can't fix it unless it's broke, you know that. Alright, here's a song ... Everybody is looking for something to believe in. Some got this, some got that. Everybody's got something. (before I Believe In You in Wantagh)

Anyway, got to apologize to Neil Young for copy, ... er ... stealing his harmonica riff. Thanks Neil! (after When I Paint My Masterpiece in Pittsburgh).

Thank you everybody! Of course that was Folsom Prison Blues, the Johnny Cash song. One of my ... Johnny Cash, you know ... if he's not in the Rock & Roll Hall Of Fame, there shouldn't be a Rock & Roll Hall Of Fame! (in Pittsburgh)

This is my anti-religion song. Anybody heard that song "Losing My Religion"? It's like losing your car-keys. Anyway, this an anti-religion song of mine. (after long harmonica intro to Gotta Serve Somebody in Groton).

After these nine shows Tony Garnier is the musician who has played most shows with Dylan ever: 266. Christopher Parker did 263 and G.E Smith 241.

Venues varied from a 1500 seater in Sao Paolo to a 30,000 stadium in Belo Horizonte with 8,000 attending. Ticket prices corresponded roughly to six months salaries for the poorer part of the population! Attendees in Sao Paolo were described as belonging to "the Mercedes crowd". Dylan gave four or possibly five press conferences!

The Fall tour finds Bob and the band ("the undesirables" as they started calling themselves after the bad reviews during the summer) back in form. Thanks everybody! Here's my theme song. (before Ballad Of A Thin Man in Evanston).

Anybody heard of the group U2? They recorded this song, but they did it with the wrong words, these are the right, these are the correct words. All about business men. All about people getting on with the business of their lives. (before All Along The Watchtower in South Bend).

Thanks everybody! That was my politically correct song. Many of my songs are politically incorrect. That was one that was correct. (after All Along The Watchtower in Indianapolis).

A rock 'n roll journalist hit me outside the building earlier and asked me about judgement day. Can you believe that? (before Gotta Serve Somebody in Indianapolis).

This song is called Everybody Must Get Stoned, not Everybody Must Get Shattered. Everybody Must Get Stoned. (before Rainy Day Women in Indianapolis).

Thanks everybody! Here's a song about ... You know once in a while you get a picture of somebody in your mind, and when you meet that person, it's nothing like the picture you had in your mind. (before Simple Twist Of Fate in New Haven).

Thanks everybody! Sometimes you just gotta hold a mirror and see what comes back! (before You Don't Know Me in New Haven).
